GOD BLESS MY SON

God bless my son. Through every day
May he be fine in every way,
May he be strong and brave and true,
May he find manly deeds to do,
May he be just and right and fair,
May he show kindness everywhere;
From early morn till set of sun
God bless and keep and guide my son.

First: It is my will that all of my just debts be fully paid, including the expenses of my last illness and funeral.

Second: That all of the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, after the payment of my said debts, I will, bequeath and devise to my beloved wife Harriett E. WILL OF JOHN PARKS TURNER, date 28 day of October 1895
This original will is in the Henry County Museum, Clinton, Missouri

IN THE NAME OF GOD, AMEN,

I, John P. Turner, of Henry County, Missouri, being of sound and disposing mind, realizing the uncertainty of human affairs and mine own life in particular, do make, publish and declare, this my last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all others, as follows, viz:

First, It is my will that all of my just debts be fully paid, including the expenses of my last illness and funeral,

Second, That all of the rest, residence and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, after the payment of my said debts, I will, bequeath and devise to my beloved wife, Harriet E. Turner, to have to hold to her, my said wife for and during her natural life only, to be there disposed of in accordance with Clause Third hence,

Third, All of the rest, residence and remainder of my said estate, after the death of my said wife, I will, bequeath and devise to my children: Perez J. Turner, John R. Turner, Nancy B. Ebertring, Alvira Dell Turner, Bonnie Decca Turner, and William Marvin Turner, and my grand child, Elizabeth Alice Bane, share and share alike, to have and to hold to them and their heirs for ever, subject however, to the limitation and condition herein after expressed,

I do not devise anything in this will to my grandchild, Ida Jane Nichols, because I have made to her all the advances that I desire she should have,

Fourth, Then being now the encumbrance on my real estate to the amount of Six Hundred Dollars which will mature on the 31st day of December 1895, and it is my will and desire that my wife, Harriet E. Turner, renew and extend the same, for such time and upon such terms as she shall think best, full power and authority being hereby confirmed upon upon this so to do; and any time when said encumbrance needs to be paid, either before the same is extended or after it shall again mature. I do hereby authorize and empower my said wife, if it shall be necessary so to do, to sell and convey so much of my said real estate as may be necessary to raise funds sufficient to pay off, and discharge said encumbrances, and such deed where so made by her, my said wife, for such purpose, shall convey the fee simple title, free and clear of the interest of my said children and grand child, as foresaid,

Fifth, I hereby appoint my said wife, Harriet E. Turner, as the sole administrator of this my last will and testament and desire that she shall execute said instr. (instrument) without being required to give bonds therefore,

*W*itness my hand this 28th day of October 1895.

Barbara,
Thanks for your help. Because of file space, I can only include the lines of the family that mainly lived in Henry County, Missouri and the parents of those lines. Do not send birthdates for living people.

The best way for me to receive the info is simply typed on an email message. If you have too much to do that, you can save it as a text file and attach that to an email.

If you'd rather print and mail, my address is:

A Directory of Towns, Villages, and Hamlets Past and Present of Henry County, Missouri

Compiled by Arthur Paul Moser

Henry County

[I]

It was in the fall of 1830 that the first settler trod the soil of Henry County. Hunters and trappers had plied their vocations through this, Osage and Grand River County as early as 1826, but no log cabin was built until the year mentioned.

When this part of Missouri was organized into a county it was, the greater part a dense wilderness and in Henry and St. Clair Counties, no white man, except an occasional hunter and trapper had ever trod its soil. Henry County, when placed under municipal government, was a part of Lillard County, whose boundary lines were, on the north the Missouri River, on the east range line between Ranges 24 & 23, south to the Osage River, its southern line the Osage River, from the above range line on the east to the Kansas State Line, following the middle of the channel of the Missouri River where the state line crosses the river. Thus Lillard County included the present counties of Lafayette, Johnson, Henry, half of St. Clair, about four-fifths of Bates and all of Cass and Jackson.

It was organized as Lillard County November 16, 1820, and its first county court was held at Mt. Vernon, on the Missouri River, about ten miles below Lexington on the 8th day of December, 1820. The county judges were James Lillard, Sr., John Whitsitt and John Stapp. They received their commissions from governor Alex. McNair, the first governor of Missouri. The first clerk and he was fifteen or sixteen years in office was Young Ewing. This was the first organization of Henry County. . .In 1823 the county seat of Lillard was removed from Mt. Vernon to Lexington and that town was platted the same year. (--History Of St. Clair County, Goodspeed, pp.83, 84.)

The official history of Henry County may be said to date from the organization act of the legislature, December 1, 1834, yet in reality its actual date should commence on May 14, 1835, for it was on that day that the official recognition of its existence was made...(According to the Office of Secretary of State of Missouri, Henry County was organized December 13, 1834.)

County Of Rives
"An act to organize the counties of Johnson and Rives, and to fix the southern boundary of Lafayette County," of this act sections 7, 8, and 9 refer to the organization of Rives County as follows:

Organization

All that portion of territory included in the following limits is hereby erected into a separate and distinct county, to be called the County of Rives, in honor of Hon. William C. Rives, of Virginia, to-wit:

Beginnig at the southwest corner of Section 30, Township 44, Rage 28, thence south along the line of Van Buren and Bates Counties to the northwest corner of St. Clair County; thence east along the northern line of St. Clair County, to the range line between ranges 23 and 24; thence north to the southeast corner of Johnson County; thence west to the place of beginning...

Approved December 13, 1834.

II

Henry County

At the same session of the general assembly, the boundary lines of St. Clair County were defined but as the county was not then populous enough to warrant its organization as a distinct municipality, it was attached by special act of the legislature to the County of Rives, for military and civil purposes, until such time as it might of itself become an independent county. The act which made it a part of Rives County was passed February 11, 1835.

Rives County Boundary Approved March 20, 1835.

"Beginning at the southwest corner of Section 30, Township 44, Range 28; thence south to the line between the Townships 39 and 40; thence east to the line between rages 23 and 24; thence north to the southeast corner of Johnson County; thence west to the beginning." (--History Of Henry & St. Clair Counties, pp.131-132.)

In 1840, the Hon. John C. Rives of Virginia became a Whig in politics, and as Rives County was a strongly Democratic one, and was named after the distinguished Virginian. . . on learning that he had been false to his faith...the people decided to change the name from Rives to Henry in honor of Patrick Henry. In the legislature of 1840, the people secured the passage of the following:

An Act To Change The Name Of Rives County.

Be in enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Missouri as follows:

"Section 1. All that portion of county bounded as follows,to-wit:

Beginning at the southwest corner of Section 30, Township 44, of Range 28; thence south to the line between Townships 39 and 40; thence east to the line between Ranges 23 and 24; thence north to the southeast corner of Johnson County; thence west to the beginning, shall compose the County of Henry."

The act further provided that all laws, acts, contracts, etc., in the name of Rives shall be as valid and binding in that county, as if made or done in Henry County. The act was approved February 15, 1841.

Since Hon. William C. Rives had changed his political affiliation from Democratic to Whigs, likewise the deliberate treachery of Martin Van Buren to General Lewis Cass and the Democratic party, caused the adjoining county of Van Buren to be changed to Cass. (--History Of Henry County, p.146.)

III

Henry County

Meadow County

One cannot exactly say "Meadow County", for it only existed like some railroad projects, on paper. . .An attempt was made at the session of the general assembly, in the winter of 1870-71, that the county was to be carved out of Pettis, Johnson, Henry and Benton and make Windsor the county seat. Warrensburg, Sedalia, Warsaw and Clinton were to be stuck up in one corner of their respective counties. . .However, when the news reached Clinton, on February 21, 1871, a mass meeting was called and a delegation was sent to Jefferson City to voice its disapproval. (--History Of Henry County, pp.257-258.)

The first session of the county court was held May 4, 1835, at the house of Henry Avery.
The second session of the county court, as also the first session of the circuit court, was held at the house of William Goff, nearly six miles from Mr. Henry Avery's...The county geat at Goff's was located on fractional Section 1, in Township 42, of Range 25. (--History Of Henry County, pp.133-135.)

When Tebo Township was made by the county court of Lafayette County in 1832 it entirely disposed of Davis Township, organized in 1830, so far as related to Johnson, Henry and St. Clair Counties...At the same session of the Lafayette County Court a new Township called Springfield Township was organized...according to a boundary which was established, all east of the range line between ranges 27 and 28 was Springfield Township, and west was Tebo Township. . .It was at the August term of the Lafayette County Court, 1834, that William B. Price was appointed constable. . .This was the last act of the Lafayette County Court in reference to Henry County. The following winter, on December 13, 1834, this territory, now Henry County, was declared an independent municipal division of the state, under the name of Rives County. (--History Of Henry County, pp.93-94.)

The name of Lillard County was changed to Lafayette County in 1825, in honor of Gen. Lafayette, who made a visit to this country in 1825, and who paid a visit to St. Louis, April 29. (--Encyclopedia Of The History Of Missouri, 1901, Vol.3, Conard, pp. 573, 576.)

ANOTHER PIONEER IS DEAD.

Capt. John P. Turner, of Leesville, Enters into Rest.

Another of the early pioneers of Henry county has been gathered in by the grim reaper whose name is Death.

Capt. John P. Turner, for forty years a resident of the eastern part of the county, departed this life last night, after a long sickness, complicated by the weaknesses of old age.

He was born in Bourbon county, Ky., and came to Henry county in 1844, being united in marriage that same year to a daughter of that old pioneer, Reuben Parks. She died in 1874, and three years later he was married to Mrs. Harriet E. Duggins.

Mr. Turner was universally respected and honored, and his death will be heard of with regret by all residents of Henry county.

EARLY PIONEERS Page 472

In the southern part of the township was the Parks' Settlement which might be said to have been the first, but was so soon followed by Labon Pigg and others, that they, too, claim to be among the first. B.D. Parks settled on section 33, Labon Pigg on section 32, John A Pigg on section 21, but moved to section 20. Then John Parks, Reuben Parks, William Parks, Benjamin Putnam and Pattison Gordon, who settled on section 15, all came in 1835, and all settled in the south central and western protions of the township. For awhile Chesley Jones, who came in 1831 or 1832, Joseph Potter in 1833, but Chesley Jones lived in Springfield. Thomas Jones also lived in the township in 1836, and settled on section 26, but removed in 1837 to Springfield Township. John Anderson, in the fall of 1835, and that fall and winter came J. P. Turner, James Y. Parks, David Logan, William Witherspoon, and Jesse Bunch.

When the year 1838 was reached, that old pioneer preache, Rev. Daniel Briggs; came and settled on section 10, and organized the Tebo Church and was a man of mark, who left impress of his strong, rugged nature upon the social and religious character of the people.

those wishing to purchase. In the case above the slaves, thirteen in number, were divided among the family, the widow having first choice, the children following according to their ages, or if they preferred, to settle it without. These slaves were valued as follows: Big Jim, $450; Little Jim, $600; Kesiah, $500; Grey, $425; Henry, $325; Harriet, $400; Ben, $300; Tabitha $200; Laban $175; Jack, $100; Fanny $450; Judy (old), 000.

The widow, Mrs. Nancy Parks, had as her dower right one-third interest. She chose Grey, $425; Fanny $450, and Jack (the toddler) $100. She also took Judy and agreed to take care of her without charge. She was too old to work but she was given a good home the remainder of her life. The children selected, or divided the others among themselves, leaving just one for each of the children as his.

It was all settled satisfactory and the returns made to the court. When one got the best he paid the other heirs the difference. For instance, the amount each was to have at the slave's valuation after the mother took her share was $368.75. Now Byrd Parks drew Little Jim $600, and he paid the difference over ($368.75) to the other heirs, who took, say Henry at $325, or Laban valued at $175. The commissioners who had charge returned the report as above and it was approved.

AN ORPHAN CARED FOR.

The following order appears of record at the August term, 18[illegible] and shows how they took care of the orphans in those early days. It reads:

"Ordered that Elijah E. Gates, a poor child, without parent guardian or estate, aged thirteen years on the 16th day of July, 1846, be bound to Asaph W. Bates until he shall arrive at the age of twenty-one years, and thereupon the said Bates came into court and entered into an indenture that he would instruct and teach the said Gates in the mysteries of the trade of a blacksmith and such other employment as he may lawfully require of him, and that he will cause the said Gates to be taught to write and read and the ground rules of arithmetic, and at the expiration of the time of service will give him a new Bible, two new suits of clothes, to be worth $40, and $10 in the current money of the United States."

days to have been "God's own country," and not many will deny that it is one of the fairest spots to be found on the great earth, and very few who chanced to find a home upon the central soil of Henry County ever cared to leave it. And this is found in the lives of so many old settlers living to-day, and the graves and names of all those who pioneered the advance guard of Henry County's stalwart sons and graceful and handsome daughters.

Deeds of record for patents received began to come in more often in the year 1837. As above stated, the first deed of record was a trust deed upon personal property, and the following is a true copy:

Know all men by these presents that I, John Anderson, for and in consideration of the sum of one dollar in hand paid, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, hath bargained, sold and conveyed, and by these presents doth bargain, sell and convey unto George B. Woodson the following property, to wit: Three yoke of oxen, the lead oxen of the two yoke being red steers with white faces, and the third yoke being of a dark red and the other a black. The right and title to said property to the said Woodson I hereby warrant and forever defend.

The condition of the above conveyance is such that, whereas, the above named John Anderson is justly indebted to Hall & Fletcher in the sum of fifty-one dollars and sixty-two cents, by bond bearing date August 24, 1836, and payable twelve months after date, and the said Anderson being desirous to secure the above named Hall & Fletcher in the aforesaid sum, hereby conveys and transfers to the said Woodson the above mentioned property, in trust, nevertheless. The said Woodson, in case of the default on the part of the said Anderson, when required by said Hall & Fletcher, after said note becomes due, shall, after advertising the time and place of sale for thirty days previous, at one of the most public places in the County of Rives, proceed to sell to the highest bidder, for cash, the above property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the debt aforesaid with interest, and pay over any balance, should any remain in the hands of the trustee, after paying the same, to the said Anderson. Now if the above named John Anderson shall well and truly pay and satisfy the above named Hall & Fletcher in the above mentioned debt as foresaid, then the above conveyance to be void, else, remain in full force and virtue.

WIDOW'S DOWER AND DISTRIBUTION OF SLAVES.

As years hence there may be a curiosity to know something of slaves and slave times, there is given below the distribution of the slaves of the estate of Reuben Parks, deceased, as an illustration of how slaves were generally held at the South. When the estate was unable to keep them the slaves generally were allowed to choose their master among improved, it has other means of wealth in its extended coal fields and stone quarries. In the northeast part of the township coal underlies nearly all of it, and veins of excellent coal are known to exist in sections 8, 17 and 18, but it is probably not too much to say that one-third of the township is thus favored. Stone quarries of an excellent building stone crop out all over the township. A saw and grist mill is found on section 4 and a saw mill on section 1. Its principal resources are now and stock. Cattle and hogs are staple articles of production along with corn.

EARLY PIONEERS.

In the southern part of the township was the Parks' Settlement which might be said to have been the first, but was so soon followed by Labon Pigg and others, that they, too, claim to be among the first. The Parks settled on section 33, Labon Pigg on section 32, John A. Pigg on section 21, but removed to section 20. Then John Parks, Reuben Parks, William Parks, Benjamin Putnam and Pattison Gordon, who settled on section 15, all came in 1835, and all settled in the south central and western portions of the township. For awhile Chesley Jones, who came in 1831 or 1832, Joseph Potter in 1833, but Chesley Jones lived in Springfield. Thomas Jones also lived in the township in 1836, and settled on section 26, but removed in 1837 to Springfield Township. John Anderson, in the fall of 1835, and that fall and winter came J. P. Turner, James Y. Parks, David Logan, William Witherspoon and Jesse Bunch. The last named, while given as coming that year, must have come in 1833 or 1834, but did not find just where he settled. There were quite a number came in 1837. John Potter settled on section 3. John Anderson on section 2, David Collins on section 10. Cornelius East, Thomas Stewart, F. and Drury Reaves and Andrew Sisk, were among the arrivals. When the year 1838 is reached, that old pioneer preacher, Rev. Daniel Briggs came and settled on section 10, and organized the Tebo Church and was a man of mark, who left the impress of his strong, rugged nature upon the social and religious character of the people. Richard James, Sr. S. Peeler, James and John Carleton, are among those who located. Henry L. Pigg and James W. Pigg, who afterwards removed to the ~~to~~ Bar Township, were born on section 25, in Tebo Township. David Collins also came in 1838. Thomas and Robert Briggs came with their father, Daniel W. R. Radford, James H. Renfro, and Talbert Kellsy completing the list.

Dear Sir:

In answer to your letter of the 15th. I will send you what information I've come up with.

Parks Chapel Cemetary is located in Township 41 - Range 24 - Section 34 of Henry Co. Missouri. This is 1½ miles southwest of Tightwad, Mo. and aprox. five miles southwest of Leesville Mo.

There isn't any record of who is buried in this cemitary, but there is a record of the ones that bought lots there. This shows a J.P. Turner owning lots 13 & 14 in Row 6.

I'm sending two pictures, (which are very poor because of old film) but they will give you some idea of what I'm talking about.

House" (portion of the present Bourbon House), was erected about 1804–5, and kept by Maurice Langhorn.

The first brick house erected in Paris was built by Thomas West, about 1796, extending from Pullen and Chambers's grocery (now L. Frank's dry goods store) to Ficklin's property, opposite the Court House door. It was in three divisions, two stories high. In after years the street was graded down, and these houses had to be entered by high steps, the first floors being perhaps eight or ten feet above the level.

The first regularly organized school was taught by Turner Lane (1796), in a little frame building, where the First Presbyterian Church stands, corner of Pleasant and Mulberry streets. He was superseded by John McCann (father of the venerable James H. McCann, now living), in 1800. The first Church organized was in 1787, by Rev. Andrew McClure, a Presbyterian minister, though the church building was not erected until 1789, and was not completely fitted up until several years afterward. It stood on the corner of Church and high streets, where James T. Davis' residence now stands. The first public burying-ground was known as the old "Dutch Graveyard," and adjoins the City School premises. The ground was donated by Lawrence Protzman. The first election of Town Trustees was held the first Friday in March, 1797, and the following gentlemen elected: John Metcalf, Daniel Duncan, William Kelly, Andrew Todd, Thomas Arnold and Richard Henderson. The Trustees before that time held their office by appointment by the Legislature.

The first bridge across Stoner at this point was built in 1795; was swept away in the fall of 1808, and was rebuilt the next year; this was torn away and replaced in 1833, by the one that stands firm yet, having been re-covered and otherwise repaired in 1875, and bids fair to last for several decades to come.

Paris in her earlier days seemed to have the same intellectual spirit animating her citizens as makes her famous for her educational institutions to-day. Establishing at the earliest day her academy and newspaper, it was but natural that she should have a public library, and as early as 1808 we find her with a chartered institution of this character, with the following gentlemen as Directors: William Garrard, Jr., Robert Trimble, William Kelly, Samuel Hanson and Benjamin Mills. The library was destroyed by fire in 1820.

The first grist-mill within the town limits was near the mouth of Houston, and was owned by John Allen, Esq. The first post office was kept by Thomas Rodes (grandfather of Mrs. B. E. Knapp) at his tavern in the Walker residence. He was succeeded by William Paton, an uncle of our present City Clerk, the venerable James Paton, Sr., who assisted his uncle in the office for some time.

In 1810 the town records were torn up by some unknown person, and the first records after that contain a resolution of condemnation of the unknown vandal.

The first dramatic performance in Paris was in 1807, in the old Burr House, which is yet standing. The dancing room was transformed into a theatre, there being no suitable hall in the town in which to give theatrical representations. The company was an amateur one, composed of a number of young men of the place, and during the winter gave several performances. Among the plays enacted was Shakespeare's sublime tragedy of Macbeth, which the young actors essayed to produce, showing that they had the utmost confidence in their histrionic ability. Our informant recalls the tragedy of Macbeth, as one of the pieces presented, from the boys using as by-words, when they would meet each other on the street, the expression, "when shall we three meet again?"

Another amateur society gave performances in 1815. Among the members were a young man named Mitchell, Ed. Hannegan, and James May, an English-man, who had some experience as an actor. They produced the play entitled "Wild Oats." Hannegan, the young man referred to above, was at that time a clerk in a store; he was pale and delicate-looking, and rather handsome, and in the female parts, which were usually assigned to him, made a very handsome and presentable lady. He subsequently, we are informed, went to Indiana, and years afterward, when Hon. E. A. Hannegan, one of the most brilliant orators of his time, was elected United States Senator from that State, it was said that he had been a clerk in a store in this place. It is, therefore, not improbable, that the amateur actor of Paris was, thirty or thirty-five years after, the eloquent Senator from Indiana. James May, who was also a member, figured afterward in the most exciting criminal case in the county, on a charge of forgery, and was sentenced to imprisonment in the State Penitentiary.

In 1823 or 1824, the first regular theatrical company appeared in Paris, under the management of a man named Cargill. The company comprised three ladies and three gentlemen. The performances, which continued nightly for some weeks, were given in the dancing-room of the old Paris Hotel. Among the pieces presented was Maturin's Bertram, which was a great favorite with theatre-goers at that day.

The first carriage was brought here by Mr. Thomas Arnold, the Clerk of the Circuit Court, in 1807. He was also the first who purchased a piano, about the same time. Judge Robert Trimble, Judge Benjamin Mills, Jesse Bledsity, was the leading spirit in the movement, but was heartily seconded by a number of our public-spirited citizens. A magnificent subscription, reaching $110,000, was made, and offered as an inducement for the location of the University here, and in addition to this amount, it was believed that the interest upon the Garth Fund could also be diverted in the same direction. This would have increased the amount of the subscription to fully $140,000. Considerable feeling, however, had been engendered as to the location, and although Paris offered much the largest bid, the institution, by a vote of the Alumni Association, under whose auspices the enterprise was carried on, was located at Richmond. The response made for subscription was exceedingly liberal, and in the highest degree creditable to the people of our county.

In the latter part of November, the Murphy temperance movement was begun in Paris by Mr. I. N. Grabbs, of Pittsburgh, Penn., and George Leavenworth, a reformed drunkard, of Cleveland, Ohio. The meetings were held at the Baptist Church, and largely attended. Every night they would address immense audiences, and would be followed by brief remarks from local speakers. Leavenworth was an earnest and persuasive speaker, and certainly one of the most effective temperance lecturers in the country. During the meetings, which lasted more than two months, there were upward of one thousand signers to the pledge of total abstinence, all of whom enrolled themselves as members of the Christian Temperance Union. Such good order was never seen in Paris as on Christmas Day, 1877. There was a temperance dinner and supper in the dining-room of the Paris Hotel building, and no drunkenness seen anywhere. For a time, at least, all was quiet, and temperance held full sway in this city. The movement unquestionably was productive of good, but the results fell far short of the expectations of those actively engaged in it.

Paris, in its earlier days, was not a healthy city. In 1801, it was visited by what was called the "cold plague." The victims of the disease were first seized with a chilly fever, after which there were symptoms somewhat resembling cholera. Not being understood, it was especially fatal to old people. Among those who died were John Hildreth, Capt. James Kenney and Peter Cline and wife.

In 1833, the cholera first appeared in Paris. Business was suspended, and all who could get away left the town. The following is a list of those who died during the epidemic: Jonathan Willett, Thomas Burtin, Sophia (daughter of Dr. N. Warfield), Mrs. Lyn, Thomas Hardwick, a daughter of Maj. George W. Williams, Mrs. Judith Bryan, Mrs. Gaither, Mrs. William M. Samuel, Mrs. Moore and son, Mrs. Hinton, Peter Sharrer, Sr., Mrs. Charles Brent, Parker (son of Mrs. Andrews), Jonathan Beasburn and son William, Erasmus Gill, Isaac Avery, Samuel D. Scott, Samuel Beeler, Mrs. Ann Kennedy, Mrs. James McCann, Peter Hizer, Mrs. Praul, Richard Samuel, George Davis, Mrs. James Paton, Richard Turner, a turnpiker (name unknown), Richard Holmes (a wagoner at John Mitchell's). Colored persons: Olivia, at William C. Lyle's; Julia, at N. Warfield's; Grace, at Mrs. Barker's; boy, at James H. McCann's; woman, at E. H. Herndon's; Jennie Jackson; Sarah Wallace; woman, at Mr. Cummins'; Marshall's woman; David, two men and woman at S. Pyke's; woman, at Mr. Waggoner's; Jenny, at Rev. Amos Clover's; Phœbe, at Jonathan Massie's; Gabriel, a stone mason; woman, at David Cline's; girl, at John Mitchell's; thirteen, at H. T. Duncan's factory. Citizens of the town who died in the country: George P. Bryant, Miss Susan Croxton, Dr. Davis, George W. Williamson, Mrs. John G. Martin, Elizabeth Leer, Mary Ann (daughter of Jonathan Massie), Mrs. Berkley.

At this time, Paris contained a population of about 1,200; and when this is borne in mind, the proportion of deaths from the scourge was very large.

In 1839, a disease known as the "Paris fever" prevailed, and a number of the citizens of the town were its victims, among whom were Benjamin Riggs, Hugh L. Brent, Joshua Smith, Sallie Davis, James Scott and others. The disease was supposed to have been caused by the miasma arising from the ponds and stagnant water about the town.

Again, in 1849, the cholera visited Paris, and the following taken from a slip which was sent out from the Citizen office, dated August 4, 1849, tells the story of its workings:

"The cholera has raged with great malignity and frightful mortality in Paris during the first few days of this week, but we are gratified to announce that the disease has abated in the violence and number of its attacks. The following is a list of the deaths since Thursday noon (July 26) to noon to-day: A. S. Pomeroy, Dyer Austin, Mrs. Thomas Rule; Old Cato, at Mrs. Kelmingham's; Mrs. Green McIntyre; Aaron, son of N. The early manufacturing industries outside of the village consisted chiefly of distilleries. The first one of these was built by John Miller, previous to the war of 1812. It was located about a mile northwest of Millersburg, near the Nicholas County line, and but a short distance from the old John Miller Station and block-house, on land now owned by the widow of James McClure Miller. The "All-healing balsam of life and comfort" turned out from this pioneer establishment was manufactured under the "Old Copper, Sour Mash" system, and what was not consumed by the pioneers for camphor (?), was shipped to New Orleans with other exports. Another distillery was built by Robert McClellan, and another by William Turner. It is said that there have been more than twenty distilleries built in this precinct at different times since its settlement, and it is not a very good section for distilleries either. More schoolhouses and fewer still-houses would be an improvement, not only in this section, but throughout Central Kentucky. There are at present three distilleries in Millersburg Precinct, viz.: Joshua Barton's, Joseph Grimes', and Davis's, the two former, of which we believe are not now running. These are more fully noticed in another chapter.

The first road regularly laid out through the precinct was probably what now forms the Maysville & Lexington pike. When this first became a public highway no one can now tell, but it is known to be first road in the State, that was macadamized. Louis Vimont, Sr., was one of the early citizens who took an active interest in the construction of this pioneer road. He was a contractor in the building of it, and not only fulfilled his own contract but completed other sections in different places, where the contractors had failed, using a considerable amount of his own funds in doing so, as the company's exchequer was empty. The next pike built was the Millersburg, Ruddell's Mills & Cynthiana, built about 1853–54. The next was the Millersburg & Cynthiana, begun in 1859, and completed in 1860, and the Millersburg & Cane Ridge, built the same year. Previous to building any of these roads, the old "Buffalo Trace" was the main throughfare. The first bridge in the precinct was built across the Hinkston, by a man named Parker. It was a wooden structure, and was built about 1815 or 1820. The architecture was poor, the bridge "top-heavy," and after standing a few years, it capsized. For many years after, the community was without a bridge, and so remained until the Turnpike Company built one; also of wood. This was burned a few years ago, when a substantial iron bridge replaced it.

The church and educational history of the precinct centers in the village, and will be given in that connection. Millersburg being a college town, the surrounding country has depended on it for education, and hence but little attention has been paid by the precinct to the common schools.—Perrin.

CHAPTER XIV.

THE TOWN OF MILLERSBURG—ITS FOUNDER—EARLY GROWTH, PROSPERITY AND MANUFACTURING INTERESTS—CHURCHES AND CHURCH HISTORY—THE CEMETERY—SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES—A SKETCH OF THEIR INFLUENCE, ETC.

THE village of Millersburg was founded by Maj. John Miller, in 1798, who was the original owner of the land upon which it stands, and for whom it was named. He was one of the colony mentioned in the preceding chapter, and came out and pre-empted land in 1775. Maj. Miller laid out his town in the year mentioned above (1798), under an act of the Legislature passed for the government of laying out towns, and had surveyed into lots one hundred acres of land. Seven trustees were appointed, in whom were vested the power of controlling the land which had been devoted to town purposes, and their successors have since exercised a supervising control over it and the affairs of the town. The charter was amended by an act of the Legislature in 1873–74, and again in 1878–79, for the appointment of officers, etc. The following article is from the Bourbon News, published in Millersburg and is so applicable to the town, and contains so much good sense, that we give it entire. Under the head of "Our city and her wants," the News says:

The signs of the times indicate that the people of Millersburg are not as progressive a people as citizens of other and smaller towns in the State. Our wants are many—so many that we can only speak of those which are absolutely necessary to advance our town to the front rank, where she properly belongs. There may be many impediments of which we have no knowledge, that have heretofore prevented our "city pops" from taking steps toward remedying the evils of which we propose to speak. Be that as it may, if it has been impossible for them to take any action in these things, it is time for the citizens to take into consideration the necessity of improvement in several matters—of which we shall make mention. Where shall we begin? Let us notice first the most important want—a fire company with

In 1850, Rev. J. L. Reynolds, D. D., of South Carolina, elected to the Presidency of the college, succeeded to the pastorate, and served the church with acceptance for two years. He was an eloquent and accomplished minister. He was succeeded by the Rev. J. M. Frost, Sr., in 1852. In the first year of his ministry, more than seventy were added to the church. He was an earnest, zealous, devoted preacher of the Gospel, but his health failed. The Rev. Samuel W. Lynd was elected Professor of Theology in the college, and succeeded to the pastorate of the church in November, 1853. Dr. Lynd was a successful pastor, a preacher of rare excellence.

The Rev. A. W. La Rue succeeded Dr. Lynd as pastor of the church in 1857; many were added under his pastorate. He was a humble, pious and godly man.

The Rev. T. J. Stevenson succeeded to the pastorate of the church in 1859, and during the very trying period of the civil war was an acceptable and useful minister. The Rev. A. C. Graves and the Rev. C. Lewis supplied the church in 1865, and were succeeded by the Rev. J. B. Tharp in 1867.

The Rev. Henry McDonald succeeded to the pastorate of the church in 1869, and quite a number were added during his ministry. He was succeeded by the Rev. R. M. Dudley, in 1877. The Rev. C. G. Skillman succeeded as pastor in November, 1879, and is the present efficient and zealous minister of the church. A number have been added during his pastorate. Its present officers are Prof. D. Thomas, Dr. John M. Lewis, Warren Clayton and George G. Stiffee, Deacons; H. Nannelly, Treas.; Prof. Farnham, Clerk. There is a large and well-ordered Sabbath school under the superintendence of Prof. J. J. Rucker, ten teachers and officers; average attendance, one hundred and twenty.

The first Methodist Church was constituted about 1817, with Mrs. Sarah Tomlinson, Mrs. Cassandra Stevenson, Job Stevenson and wife, Michael Goddard and wife, Phil B. Price and wife, William Shellers, Sr., John Shellers, Joel Peak. For many years they met in private houses, the court house, and occasionally in the First Baptist Church. They had preaching from the circuit preachers, which was seldom, as the circuit then organized was very large. The Rev. William Burke, H. McDaniel, Jonathan Stamper, John Ray, Harris, Gunn, Edward Stevenson and others who itinerated the circuit. Their first house of worship was erected about the year 1820, and stood on the east side of Mulberry street, south of Main. It was a plain, brick structure, with ample room for the congregation. Here Bishop Crouch, the Rev. Henry Bascom, in his earlier days, Rev. George Light, and the Rev. Joseph S. Tomlinson, the great revivalist Maffitt, and others supplied the pulpit, while numbers were added to the church. In 1847, the present house on Hamilton street was built. The Rev. Evan Stevenson was mainly instrumental in its erection. From time to time many and large additions were made to the church. In 1849, S. S. Deering supplied the church, and in 1850, Rev. Evan Stevenson was the supply; in 1853-61, Rev. W. F. F. Spaull; in 1857-58, Stephen Noland; in 1855-56, Hartwell J. Perry preached for the church; 1867-68, P. L. Henderson and William McD. Abbott, and in 1869-70, S. Noland; 1871, James A. Henderson; 1872, James E. Letton, and in 1873, H. W. Abbott; 1874, Richard Deering; 1875-76, John Reeves; 1877, George D. Turner; in 1878-79, ———.

The Particular Baptist Church was organized in 1827. Those who united in the organization were Mrs. Mary Hawkins, Mrs. Elizabeth Breckenridge, Thomas H. Graves and wife, and James Sullivan and wife. Their first house for worship was erected in 1837, the present house is situated on the northeast corner of Main and Mulberry streets; was built in 1856, and occupies the site of the former house. Elder Thomas P. Dudley was present at the constitution of the church, and from its organization has been its pastor for more than fifty years, having resigned some two years since, on account of his great age and infirmities. He was succeeded by Elder J. T. Moore, a citizen of Georgetown, who was born in Scott County, and educated in Georgetown.

The Christian Church.—In the past history of our native village, Georgetown, a more deeply interesting period will not be found than that embracing the residence as a citizen and the labors as a teacher of the learned and pious Barton W. Stone, who may be justly said to be one of the founders of this large and respectable body of Christians. Mr. Stone was born in Maryland, December 24, 1772. After acquiring in Virginia and North Carolina a good English and classical education, he removed to Kentucky in the winter of 1796-97. He was married to Miss Elizabeth Campbell, daughter of Col. William Campbell, of Millersburg, Ky. He came as a preacher to Georgetown in 1811. The distinctive plea of Mr. Stone and his associates, was for the union of all Christians, "upon the foundation of the prophets and apostles," the word of God the only rule, the name Christian the only patronymic. I went with my father to hear him preach in the old court house. His first wife died in 1809, leaving him four little daughters, and late in 1811 he married his second wife, Miss Celia W. Bowen, near Nashville, Tenn.

In 1816-17, he removed to Georgetown to take charge as Principal of Rittenhouse Academy. It was the good was the mother of James H. The Frazer family came first to Harrison County, emigrating from Virginia about the year the Talbots came. Henry Talbot, the father of James H., succeeded his father on the homestead, remaining here until his death in 1840. His wife survived him until 1868. Amanda was the eldest daughter. She married Henry Hals. Then came Charles, who was Justice of the Peace and at one time Sheriff of the county. Catharine married William Urmston; Mattie, A. B. Thomas; James remained at home until he was twenty-five years of age; was married in 1855 to Mary Smith, daughter of Michael Smith and Mary Howe, both natives of Virginia. In 1856 Mr. Talbot located on the farm he now owns, having 100 acres, which was first settled by one Tucker, who built a powder mill on the premises at an early day. Mr. Talbot has given some attention to breeding short-horns and trotting horses. Has two children: Harry and Charles S., and is a member of the Christian Church, of which his ancestors on the Frazer side were affiliated; on the Talbot side they were Baptists. His grandmother, Barbara Talbot, was blind for many years prior to her death; had an excellent memory. Of twenty grandchildren, she could name one from the other by the sense of feeling.

DANIEL TURNEY, general business; P. O. Paris. This gentleman is a native of this county, and is the second son of Amos and Lucinda McIntyre; he was reared to farming pursuits; soon after the outbreak of the war, he entered the Confederate army, enlisting as a private in Company G., 3d Kentucky Cavalry, and served until the close of the same, being promoted at different times, until he rose to the rank of captain, and with the exception of a wound received at Dallas, he escaped unharmed to the last; upon his return to civil life, he came to Paris, and engaged in the dry goods business for three years and a half; he then engaged in the stock trade, which business he has since followed during this time, he has been engaged in the livery and hotel business, being connected with the Bourbon House for several years; he is yet engaged in stock trading and the livery business; he is the owner and proprietor of "The Arlington," at Blue Lick Springs, in Nicholas County, of which a full description is given elsewhere in this work, to which the reader is referred. Mr. Turney is among the most successful business men in the county, and has amassed a handsome property for himself and family; in January, 1867, he married Miss Mollie Mitchell, daughter of Wm. W. Mitchell, who was one of the highly respected residents of Bourbon County; he died December, 1867, a man whose memory will be long cherished in the minds of his friends and acquaintances, for his many virtues. To Mr. Turney have been born five children, but three living: Maggie, Lucille, and Nellie; two sons who died in infancy. Mr. Turney is a member of the Knights of Honor.

JOHN W. VANHOOK, farmer; P. O. Paris; was born Oct. 4, 1818, in Harrison County, in Cynthiana Precinct, the fourth child born to his parents, who were Abner and Freelove (Hull) Vanhook. The grandfather of J. W. was a native of Virginia, and emigrated to Kentucky when Indians were plentiful and the settlements were few and far between, he having to remain at the station for sometime for protection. He was among the first white men who came down the Licking river in a boat. Abner, the father of our subject, began in the world with nothing, having to make his own commencement in life, having nothing; he died March, 1852; his wife survived him two years after. Their children were: William, Samuel, Archie, Henry, J. W. and Amanda. J. W. started for himself at his majority. For several years he hired out by the month. In November, 1844, he married Margaret Isgrig, daughter of Daniel Isgrig, who was an early settler. Mr. Vanhook moved to the farm he now owns, in 1852; has a good farm and pleasant location near Paris; the farm consists of 151¼ acres. Their house was destroyed by fire, but has since been replaced by a large and more modern structure, built of brick, in 1867. Mr. Vanhook is engaged in farming and stock-raising. Has four children: Mary E., wife of Joseph Honey; Lawrence M., Maggie C., wife of Robert Turner, and John T., who resides in Saline County, Mo.

DR. J. T. VANSANT, physician; P. O. Paris; was born in Fleming County, this State; son of John K. and Nancy (Markwell) Vansant, both natives of Kentucky. The subject of these lines was raised on a farm until seventeen, after which he received a collegiate course at Danville, Ky., and his medical education at New York City, graduating in 1877, at the Medical College, and engaged in the practice of his profession in the city where he graduated, remaining here until failing health induced him to seek another latitude, locating in Mt. Sterling, where he continued practicing until October, 1880, when he came to Paris and succeeded Dr. O. H. Buck, a homeopathic physician, who had an excellent practice. The Doctor has followed in his wake, and has been very successful in the healing art, and made many friends, having established a lucrative practice; is a member of the 1st Presbyterian Church, and February, 1882, finds him a bachelor!

PERRY WORNALL, farmer; P. O. Paris. Perry Wornall, one of the representative farmers of Bourbon County, residing six miles north-west of Paris, was born in Clark County, this State, Oct. 12, 1819, son of Col. Thomas Wornall and Sarah Ryan. Our subject resided in Clark County until the fall of 1845, when he removed to Bourbon County, bought a farm on Townsend Creek, where he lived until 1852, when he exchanged his farm for the one he now owns. Feb. 25, 1845, he married Elizabeth, daughter of Samuel Ewalt, Sen., and Cynthia Pugh. The fruit of this marriage was two sons: Samuel E., born March 27, 1845, and Thomas P., born Dec. 13, 1847. Samuel E. resides near Kansas City, Mo.; was married in Louisville, Ky., Oct. 25, 1877, to Alice Wakefield, daughter of Dr. Joseph R. and Ann Rowan Barnum. They have one child, Rowan B. Thos. Shortly afterwards he came to Clark County, Ky., and settled between Winchester and the Kentucky river, but soon changed his location to one six miles north-east of Winchester, one of the most productive spots in all the Blue Grass region; on this farm he lived until his death, which occurred Nov. 3, 1838. In 1809-10 he represented his county in the Kentucky Legislature, and during the war of 1812, commanded a company of Cavalry; after his return he was made a Colonel in the Kentucky Militia. He was clerk of his Church, the Regular Baptist, at Stony Point, in Bourbon County, for many years, and served in the same capacity for the Licking Association of Baptists from 1828 to 1834. For many years previous to his death he officiated as Sheriff, County Surveyor, and Master Commissioner of Clark County. He was evidently a man for peace, a man to whom his neighbors and friends could and did go for advice in settlement of personal and financial difficulties. Susan Ryan, his wife, died at F. P. Clay's, in Bourbon County, Sept. 23, 1854. They had ten children born to them: John and Keturah died in infancy; Richard settled in Missouri; had one son, John B., who was elected to the Legislature and Senate in Missouri; Thomas settled in Harrison County, Ky.; Alfred in Bourbon County, Ky.; Mary married Samuel Clay, of this county; Susan married Frank P. JOHN T. WOODFORD, farmer and stock raiser; P. O. Paris. The Woodford family trace their genealogy to one William Woodford, a native of England; he was a merchant, and moved to Caroline Co., Virginia, at an early day. His estate was called Windsor; he was thrice married. First to a Mrs. Whitaker, daughter of an East India merchant; his second wife was widow Battaile, both of whom died childless. The eldest son of William and Ann Woodford was William, who was born October 6, 1734; he was an officer under the Colonial Government, with the rank of Brigadier-General. He married Mary, daughter of John and Mildred Thornton. Mildred was a Miss Gregory, daughter of Mildred Washington, sister of Augustine Washington, which relation made General George W. her nephew. Thomas was the second son of William and Ann; he was educated in Cambridge for the ministry, but afterwards became a sea Captain, and died childless. Henry also died a sea Captain. The third generation is John Thornton Woodford (eldest son of William and Mary Thornton Woodford); who was born at Windsor, July 29, 1763. In 1786, he married Mary Turner Tallaferro, who was born March 13, 1772. The fourth generation was William, who was born March 25, 1787; he married Ann Maria Archer, Dec. 1809. He has over 800 acres of land, situated in the extreme south part of the precinct; he has been engaged in farming and stock raising—raising short horn cattle and Cotswold sheep. In February, 1840, he married Miss Buckner, daughter of William Buckner. This union has been crowned with a family of nine children, viz: Sallie, wife of Capt. E. F. Spears, Mary L., wife of Col. E. JOHN WILL LETTON, farmer; P. O. Millersburg; proprietor of Pleasant Hill farm, was born in Montgomery County, Md., May 22, 1821, to Brice Letton, who was born in 1780, and the youngest son of Michael Montgomery (see history). His mother was Harriatta E. Moore, also a native of Montgomery County, Md., and sister to "Old Zad Moore," who is supposed to have built the first brick house in Paris, where he kept hotel, afterward built the Bourbon House, later he went to the Blue Licks, where he kept the noted summer resort, and died after many years of service. The children born to Brice Letton were eleven, seven sons and four daughters, two sons and two daughters deceased. Those living are: Michael H. in Paris Precinct; Ning W. at Lexington, Mo.; Reuben P. in Silver City, Col.; John Will, Brice S., at Paris, Ky.; Harriatta, widow of Dr. James McClannahan, of Anderson, Ind.; Ann Maria, wife of J. W. Dooley, of Montgomery County, Md. The father of this family was a captain at an early date in the terrible contest at Bladensburg. He received an injury in Washington, D. C., when on his way to Kentucky in his old age, from which he never recovered. Our subject lived with his father until he was twenty-one years of age, when he came to Bourbon County, where, in Feb. 6, 1847, he was married to Mary B. Sandusky, daughter of Jacob and Mosan (Bowler) Sandusky. (For further knowledge of Sandusky ancestry, see Turner history.) The issue of this union was eleven children, ten of whom are living, viz: Ann M., born Jan. 28, 1848, wife of Louis Goosk, of Jessamine County; Prudence H., born April 17, 1849, now wife of James Becraft; Harriet E., born April 8, 1851, wife of Thomas Redmon; Mary D., born Sept. 27, 1853; Jacob B., July 2, 1855; Sandusky, Aug. 22, 1857, died at seventeen years of age; Laura S., Feb. 8, 1860, wife of Charles Gettinger, at Millersburg; Martha, born Feb. 19, 1862; John W., May 3, 1864; Sally C., Jan. 11, 1867; Reuben E., Jan. 24, 1869. He is a member of the Masonic Order at Millersburg.

County, the former born in 1837, the latter in 1847. On Dec. 1, 1881, Mr. Sharp entered into partnership with Jas. M. Collier, at Millersburg, and in addition to attending to the duties of ganger, is now engaged in selling lumber, coal, salt and lime. Owing to his abilities as a business man he has assisted in building up a large and steadily increasing business. He is a very energetic and enterprising business man, and well worthy of the high esteem in which he is held by the community. In politics he is a Republican.

WALLACE SHANNON, farmer; P. O. Millersburg; an enterprising and highly respected young farmer and stock shipper; resides with his mother at their beautiful home, about two miles above Millersburg, on the Cynthiana and Indian Creek Pike. The early ancestry of the family were among the old pioneers of the country, and highly esteemed for their industry and probity.

JAMES H. THOMPSON, farmer; P. O. Millersburg; was born in Nicholas County, Nov. 21, 1833, about three and a half miles from Millersburg, where he now resides, to Henry and Mary (Wilson) Thompson; she born in Lexington about 1796, to James Wilson and a Miss Clark, who were very early settlers at that place; Henry Thompson, Jr., was born in the Sherman Valley, Pa., near Carlisle, in May, 1782, died in February, 1853; he was brought by his parents, Henry and Mary (McClintock) Thompson, to the farm now owned in part by the subject of this sketch. Henry Thompson, Sr., was one of the party of eighteen who settled in the vicinity of Millersburg in 1778, his tract of 1200 acres lying in the edge of Nicholas County. He it seems remained upon his land the principal part of the time after making the first settlement, in a rude cabin in the howling wilderness, being the only settler between Maysville and Lexington, and during the most troublesome time with the Indians, and the great massacre at the Blue Licks. In 1783 he brought his family and remained upon the old homestead until his death. During his lonely life the Indians several times drove him off his land, and drove away his stock and after bringing his family, his noble wife would stand guard while he plowed their little patch of corn, and did other necessary work. Lincoln County History

From the Shenandoah Valley, and the Blue Ridge Mountains, they came on foot, in wagons, and on horseback. Not all the wagons made it to Kentucky and not all the horses survived. In fact, the decision to follow the trail they called the Wilderness Road, through the Cumberland Gap into Kentucky was as dangerous a decision as any a frontiersman might make. Colonel William Whitley , an early Lincoln County resident whose magnificent home still stands as a tribute to pioneer Kentucky spirit, lamented that the Road Patrol he headed did little more than retrieve bodies of those who did not survive the trip. Daniel Boone blazed the trail for the pioneers, hacking his way through the forests and undergrowth of the Cumberland Mountains, following buffalo trails -- traces, as they were then called -- that eventually led him to the place he founded his own settlement. Skagg's Trace , a trail named for two exploring brothers, branched from Boone's Trail at a place called Hazel Patch, and allowed Benjamin Logan and others to enter the area that would later see the rise of communities like Mt. Vernon, Crab Orchard, Danville, Hustonville, and Logan's own Hustonville, and Logan's own settlement -- Stanford. It wasn't known by that name then, of course, but then again, there were various names attached to Logan's settlement.

It was the year 1775 and Benjamin Logan reached the convergence of three springs which he determined to be a fine location for his home. Logan was of Scotch-Irish heritage, born about 1741 in Augusta County, Virginia, one of the most predominately Scottish settlements in Colonial America. He recorded the date of his arrival at Buffalo Springs as May 1st, and a Welshman commented to Logan that the date corresponded to the canonization of St. Asaph, a monk who had lived in Wales.

He suggested to Logan that the settlement be called St. Asaph's -- and although Logan agreed with the idea, the settlement was most often called Logan's Station, or Logan's Fort . The settlement later was renamed for a burrough in Lincolnshire, England that was originally known as Staenford, or "stony ford" in Old English, and became known as Stanford -- the county seat.

Lincoln County was established in 1780 as one of three original counties in the district of Kentucky, and comprised a third of the area before being divided numerous times to form smaller counties for the convenience of residents who were forced to travel long distances to the courthouse. Lincoln County predates Abraham Lincoln -- and was actually named for General Benjamin Lincoln , who commanded the Southern Dept. of troops during the Revolution. Shortly after the county was named in his honor Lincoln accepted Cornwallis' sword as a token of the British surrender, a duty he performed at the request of George Washington.

Significant County Locations

Traveler's Rest is the location where Kentucky's first (and fifth!) governor, Isaac Shelby, built a home for he and his wife, Susannah Hart Shelby. Both are buried at the site near Shelby City.

Whitley House was constructed by Colonel Willam Whitley as the first brick house in the state, with its materials shipped to the frontier from Virginia. He hosted lavish barbecues for area residents at the home, which was built with secret rooms to hide his wife and children from danger. Whitley House is located SE of Stanford.

Buffalo Springs Cemetery just west of Stanford, has many stones dating to early statehood.

Crab Orchard , the site of numerous mineral springs, was a popular resort stop from its founding until the early 1930's. Crab Orchard is located SE of Whitley House.

Ottenheim was a German-Swiss settlement founded by Joseph Ottenheimer, who cleared the rugged land near Hall's Gap and built crude log cabins for the many immigrant families in the early 1880's, who later developed the area into a productive agricultural site.

King's Mountain was a one-time railroad boom-town, a bustling community taking care of the hundreds of Southern Railroad workers who hand-dug a tunnel nearly a mile in length. The contract went out in 1873, and the King's Mountain Tunnel would be the longest and most expensive attempted by the railway, which laid track

Hanging Fork

Hustonville was originally called Hanging Fork, and was called New Store for a time, and was named for three pioneering brothers who settled the area, located just east of Carpenter's Station. Nathan Huston commanded a company under George Rogers Clark, and represented Lincoln County at Kentucky's Constitutional Conventions. His brother Stephenson has his name engraved at the Courthouse monument to Lincoln's Revolutionary soldiers, and along with younger brother Archibald, owned considerable land in Lincoln and Casey counties. from Cincinnati to New Orleans to accomodate the black-smoking, coal-burning, steam locomotives and theccars they pulled.
It was a time when the blast of the train's whistle was followed by shouts and commotion, a dropping-of-the-business-at-hand in order to make it to the station ahead of the locomotive. Mothers and their children, boys and their dogs, men -- working or otherwise -- were drawn to the depots to witness the billowing black smoke, the screech of metal on the rails, and the arrival and departures of their neighbors.
Steve Reynolds and his wife were busy at their boarding house, as was the community in general; trees were cut, lumber was milled for railroad ties, stores stocked goods of all sorts, blacksmiths hammered metal through the day. Railroad workers had to be fed, clothed, housed -- and entertained. The community had a fair share of saloons during the boom-days, and enough mischief to draw several hardy ministers who founded churches that survived well past the last shovel of dirt from the tunnel. Construction of a new building for the newly-founded Christian Church was completed in 1892, and the Methodists -- led by Reverand Newsome -- weren't far behind.
Bolts of gingham, leather shoes, and china plates and saucers were all sold by travelling salesmen, and they found at King's Mountain a warm bath, a hot meal, and a sturdy bed. A hotel built by Dan Hester competed with the Pennebaker Hotel for the dollars of the peddlers and railroad officials. The railroad brought men, wives, and families -- and the children needed schooling. The Murphy family donated land for a school, which operated as a two room structure before giving way to the brick building constructed for the elementary students, which was finished in time for classes in 1913. That was the same year the King's Mountain Echo published the news of the community, drawing ads for stores from Waynesburg to Pleasant Point.

In the thin air of the long tunnel, in the blackness of the hole, a badly swung pick or falling rock was a daily danger -- the fear of which was lessened somewhat by the presence of C.M. Thompson and W. D. Laswell. Both were capable doctors who not only served the King's Mountain area and the workers of the Southern Railroad, but traversed the county as part of their weekly rounds, setting bones, delivering babies, and attending to the ill. Dr. Thompson began his practice in the area in August of 1892, and continued his doctoring at King's Mountain for 64 years. Dr. Laswell moved to the Mountain in 1916 as a graduate of the Louisville School of Medicine and kept his practice there until 1944, when he lost his own health.

ture, and in November, 1876, he was elected to Congress from the Ninth Congressional District of Kentucky, being re-elected in 1878. While serving his State in the latter capacity Mr. Turner made one of the grandest speeches on record, which will be found on page 835, of the Congressional Record, volume 9, part 1st. It was advocating the attachment of a proviso to the appropriation bills, that no part of the money should be used to pay Federal Supervisors of Elections, or to pay for the presence of the army at the polls. October 25, 1854, Mr. Turner married Miss Mary Everett, of Montgomery County, Ky., who bore him one child, Mary, and departed this life September 11, 1856. December 31, 1857, Mr. Turner married Miss Henrietta Robertson. They became the parents of eight children, all of whom are living, viz: Ben R., Squire, Jr., Charles C., Joe R., Thomas, Jr., William S., Henry and Emily Kate. Mr. Turner is a great favorite in his community; he is a gentleman of fine business ability, and integrity; of generous, unselfish disposition, and is possessed of pleasing manners.

DR. JAMES P. TURNER of Mount Sterling, Ky., was born near Paris, Bourbon County, Ky., December 4, 1828, and is of English descent. His father, Joseph Turner, was a native of Virginia, and by occupation a farmer. He came to Kentucky about 1828 and located on a farm near Paris, in Bourbon County, where he lived until his death, July 7, 1836. Politically he was a Whig, and also a member of the Baptist Church. He married Susannah Parks, also a Virginian by birth, who bore him seven children, the subject of this sketch being the youngest. Mrs. S. Turner died August 20, 1849, a member of the Baptist Church. James P. Turner was reared on the farm until eighteen years of age, in the meantime acquiring an education in the Houston Academy, situated near Paris, Ky., obtaining a fair knowledge of Latin and Greek and mathematics; he then taught for two years in the district schools. About 1848 he began to read medicine with Dr. Thomas Owens, of Paris, with whom he pursued his studies for two years; afterward he attended the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania. He began practice in Montgomery County, five miles from Mount Sterling, and successfully continued until 1883, in the meantime, however, practicing two years in the adjoining County of Clark. He entered as a surgeon in the Federal army in March, 1863, in the Fourteenth Kentucky Cavalry, then in the command of Col. H. E. Lilly. He was in several skirmishes, but the greater part of his time was spent in the hospital service. He was honorably discharged at Camp Nelson, March 22, 1864. He returned to Montgomery County and resumed his practice, which he still successfully continues. He was united in marriage in November, 1853, to Miss Harriet Wills, a native of Montgomery County, and a daughter of Andrew and Elinor (Smith) Wills, both natives of Kentucky. Ten children have been born to their union, viz: Joseph E., Carrie B., John W., Mary E., James L., Nannie C., Alice, Annie and Mattie H., all living; the youngest, or tenth child, died in infancy, unnamed. Mrs. Turner died December 17, 1883, aged fifty-two, and from early life was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Politically Mr. Turner is a Democrat, and also a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, and at present the ruling elder of the only church now in Montgomery County. He is one of Montgomery County's influential citizens, and a successful physician. He neither uses himself nor recommends outside of his profession, the use of intoxicating liquors or tobacco, believing that both tend to demoralize the man, degrade the soul, and shorten human life.

NELSON C. TUTTLE, a native of Clark County, Ky., was born March 8, 1825. His father, William S. Tuttle, a native of Culpeper County, Va., was born February 14, 1797. He was a farmer by occupation and came to Kentucky in 1800 with his parents, who settled at what is known as Dunaway's Station, where he spent the remainder of his life and died May 5, 1857. Politically he was an uncompromising Whig, and served as magistrate under both the old and new constitutions, and at the time of his death was justice of the peace, as well as the adminis-

Congratulations!! By using the CENDEX service you have saved weeks, months or perhaps years in your search for your ancestors. Your attached listing shows every instance of the surname as it appears on the census in question. The listing is on a phonetic basis, not alphabetic. Because of the mechanics of the Soundex code, the listing may contain names you obviously did not order. Nevertheless, you should examine every name carefully to make sure that it is not in a form previously unknown to you.

This is what your listing means to you:

*Asterisk indicates a doubt as to name, spelling, etc.

County	Census	Page	Soundex Code	Name

37 AL4	10	L236	ISOM	LASSITTER
47 AL4	176	L236	HENRY	LAZETOR*

The attached county listing shows the county numbers and the corresponding county names. Where there is no county listing, the county name is shown directly. The census in the example is 1840 Alabama. The page on the census, Soundex code and name are next.

You have saved a great deal of time in your search for your ancestors. See the reverse side for more information.

IMAGINE YOU, FINDING YOUR ANCESTORS RIGHT AWAY
When it has taken years for the professionals to find their own.

This shows how CENDEX has done it for many others.
Why not you, too?

You can now take advantage of the most important time saver ever available to an ancestor-hunter. You may order a CENDEX search on any surname on any census yet indexed by CENDEX. An index in itself is a valuable tool, if it is accurate and if the researcher is familiar with different spellings of names and the complications that arise because of bad spelling and bad script. An alphabetical index is for this reason not always reliable. The CENDEX system is phonetic, which eliminates the problems of variant spellings, and thorough because it recognizes the problems that any census-searcher faces.

This means that for the first time, the genealogist is relieved of the burden of searching the census for himself, or paying a professional to search by hand. This saves months of research time in your quest for information. Months can and do become years: Hence, a CENDEX name listing locates the names that can take years to get by any other means.

Consider what the Soundex code (the phonetic system) does for you. It provides the names no matter how irregular the spelling. Thus, Proffitt can be spelled as Prophet, Profit, Proffet, Profett, etc. The phonetic code for this is simply P613. You, the searcher, do not have to know the Soundex code to order: You merely request the name search, and CENDEX does the rest. Your listing will show every name as shown on the census, the first name, middle name if any, and last name, in every county. The counties and page numbers are fully identified. The search recognizes the problems of bad script. For instance, is the name Bayliss, or is it Bayliff? Is the name Loudon, or is it London? The index will show the same name indexed both ways, and uncertainty is indicated.

Consider the following listing for the name Beshear/Beshiers/Brashiers(s). Variants of this name require that three different Soundex codes be used in a search for this name:

B260 for Beshear, Beshier
B262 for Beshears, Beshers, Bessears
B626 for Brasher, Brasier, Brasheers, etc.

No variant spelling can escape detection and listing in a system as exhaustive and thorough as this. The actual listing that you, the client, receive is in the following form:

6	KY4 244	B626	JOHN M.	BRASHER
6	KY4 262	B626	LEVIN	BRASIER

77	KY4	41	B262	JOHN W.	BESSHEARS
78	KY4	62	B626	JOHN	BRASHEARS

The county is the first number (a county list is attached to all listings). The "KY4" means 1840 Kentucky, and the page number is next. Then the complete name is shown as it appears on the census. An asterisk (*) beside a name indicates some doubt as to the name, spelling, or something else, and what is shown is CENDEX's interpretations.

No person has ever had any trouble understanding his listing, and neither will you.

DO YOU MAKE THESE MISTAKES WHEN SEARCHING CENSUS FILM?

The film searcher gets tired, which is a big mistake, for fatigue causes carelessness and a desire to be finished before the library closes. Variant spellings are easily overlooked. Bad script causes oversights and the uneasy feeling that something should have been looked at more carefully. Very often, not all of the census for a single state is examined. A big handicap is not living where census film and readers are available. Assuming that you somehow had none of these disadvantages, would you read the census at least three times? Not likely, if each time takes a month or so to do, full time. CENDEX reads the census three times for you: Once in the original work of punching cards, again in proof-reading (by a different person, of course), and once more in providing your name listing. And perhaps again in more proof-reading. Can you think of any system more thorough?

YOUR ANCESTORS MAY HAVE BEEN COLORFUL OR EVEN MELODRAMATIC

You won't know until you learn about them.

Thousands of people just like you have ancestors who lived in colorful and historic times, things like the Revolutionary War, Indian raids, the long migrations westward. The conditions in Europe that led to emigration produced very interesting personal histories. Did you know that many ordinary people in that time spent all their money just for passage to America? ... That many died enroute? You learn about these things in connection with your own ancestors when you work up your own family tree. And CENDEX can speed the process mightily.

Let CENDEX help you with your research now. Kindly fill in the coupon below and mail it to P. O. Box 5291, Austin, Texas, 78763. You will receive your information within six weeks, probably much sooner.

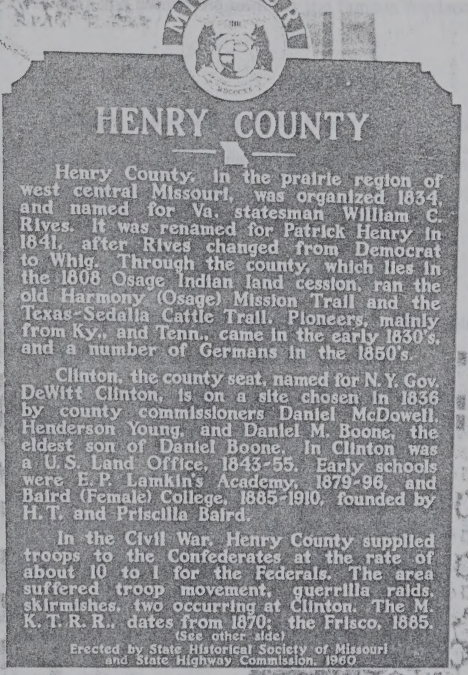
Bits And Pieces About The Golden Valley



MISSOURI
HENRY COUNTY
Henry County, in the prairie region of west central Missouri, was organized 1834, and named for Va. statesman William C. Rives. It was renamed for Patrick Henry in 1841, after Rives changed from Democrat to Whig. Through the county, which lies in the 1808 Osage Indian land cession, ran the old Harmony (Osage) Mission Trail and the Texas-Sedalia Cattle Trail. Pioneers, mainly from Ky., and Tenn., came in the early 1830's, and a number of Germans in the 1850's.
Clinton, the county seat, named for N.Y. Gov. DeWitt Clinton, is on a site chosen in 1836 by county commissioners Daniel McDowell, Henderson Young, and Daniel M. Boone, the eldest son of Daniel Boone. In Clinton was a U.S. Land Office, 1843-55. Early schools were E.P. Lamkin's Academy, 1879-96, and Baird (Female) College, 1885-1910, founded by H.T. and Priscilla Baird.
In the Civil War, Henry County supplied troops to the Confederates at the rate of about 10 to 1 for the Federals. The area suffered troop movement, guerrilla raids, skirmishes, two occurring at Clinton. The M. K. T. R. R., dates from 1870; the Frisco, 1885.

history and named the town for the famous Windsor Castle of England.

CALHOUN

Calhoun, the oldest town in Henry County, was founded in 1835 by James Nash. It was named for the great southern statesman, John C. Calhoun, of South Carolina.

DEEPWATER

Deepwater Township was organized in July, 1840, and the town was founded a few years later. It was named after the creek that runs nearby. It was noted for its tile factory, the largest of its kind in the world.

URICH

The town of Urich was founded in April, 1871, by H. C. McDonnel. The town was named in honor of General Uhrich, a hero of the war of 1870 between France and Germany.

BROWNINGTON

Brownington was located in 1869 and laid out by William D. Doyle. It was joined with the village of Consville which was founded by Captain Consollis about 1867.

MONTROSE

Montrose was founded by Brad Robinson about 1871, and it was quite a town by 1875. Its early development was rapid until the disastrous fire which occurred a few years after its founding.

OTHER TOWNS AND VILLAGES

Blairstown, in the northern part of the county, was laid out in connection with a railroad and named in honor of Blair.

13. Circus In Leesville

(BY MRS. BIRDIE (PARKS) WITHERSPOON)

Before the Civil War, my grandfather, John Parks, lived on a farm several miles west of Leesville. He died there in 1862. There were 16 members of his household, counting the step, the half and full brothers and sisters, grandfather, grandmother, and the colored woman Fanny.

My father, John Sherman Parks, was the oldest child, and when a circus came to Leesville, then a thriving little village, he was elected to drive an ox team to a wagon and take the younger brothers and sisters and Fanny to see the circus.

All went well till they came to the outskirts of the village, and there standing beside the road was an elephant eating hay. Fanny was badly scared. She threw up her hands, the tears rolling down her cheeks, and cried, "De good God of Hebens, John Sherman!" Of course that frightened the children, and Father had plenty of excitement for a few minutes keeping the ox team under control and quieting his wagon load of humanity.

THRIVING COMMUNITY was Leesville whose settlers furnished some of the county's most substantial citizens. Now only a crossroads stopping place, Leesville once boasted wagon shops, provision stores, blacksmith shops, a doctor, and other earmarks of a progressive town. The Leesville Band played for many area celebrations led by Pete Hill, who also was the school teacher.

Today if an 18-year-old boy were to come into town driving an ox team to a wagon loaded with childred and their colored mammy, it would attract more attention than a circus several times the size of that one.

DID YOU KNOW-----?

That Governor Elliott W. Major gave the graduation address at Deepwater High School in 1913? The Governor came into Clinton on the Katy, where he was met at the depot by a number of friends and given a hearty welcome. He was then entertained at tea by School Superintendent Lamkin and then went to Deepwater by automobile, escorted by six autos of Deepwater citizens and several from Clinton. Such an immense throng awaited the Governor at Deepwater, only half of the people were able to get into the airdome where the school exercises were held. The Governor spoke first to the 500 or more people outside, then again to graduates and those inside. He stayed overnight in Clinton before returning to the State Capital on "The Limited" the next morning.
